WINFRED E. EYE

Today Was Another Day LP/MP3 – Whaleboy

Release Date: January 10, 2012

Winfred E. Eye is a band that could play in a bar or intimate setting. The Oakland, California-based band mixes rock n' roll with country boogie, adding a crooning touch, and creating a style uniquely their own. With a current lineup of Aaron Calvert, Mikel Garmendia, Craig Adams, Rich Douthit, Larry Van Riggs, and Jeremy Goody, the band has been turning out original sounds with some semblance of this lineup for 13 years.

Winfred E. Eye's fifth full-length release, Today Was Another Day, packs 12 songs destined to be favorites to both old and new ears. Recorded over two years in Oakland and San Francisco, the songs were engineered by Mikel Garmendia, Jeremy Goody, and Drew Zajicek. The band invites you to take some time to listen to their new batch and lose yourself in their world – it's a world where roads are paved and potholed, where dreams do and don't come true, where beauty meets pain, appetites are insatiable, and love is both lost and found. As always, the jokes are piled high, and the riddles are easy.

One of these listeners, Aaron Tassano, wrote: "The thing grows by itself somehow and just keeps moving along. The light might make you a little uneasy. But when you eat it, it's good. You don't have to think about where or how it comes from." Winfred E. Eye's previous release, Til I Prune, was called "a gem of rare and wonderful clarity" (Blurt), "a collection of songs that evoke sadness without reveling in it" (Prefix), and "the Bay Area's answer to Tom Waits" (LA Weekly).

The band is actively playing music in the Bay Area and has previously performed with the likes of Will Oldham, Smog, Modest Mouse, Jesse Sykes and The Sweet Hereafter, The Handsome Family, Black Heart Procession, Mia Doi Todd, and Quasi.
